Nathan Bowen
Director of Public Policy, National Association of State Departments of Agriculture

Nathan Bowen is Director of Public Policy at the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture, which represents the commissioners, secretaries and directors of the state departments of agriculture from all fifty states and four U.S. territories. He directs the Association’s policy activities, with a specific focus on environment and international trade policy.

Previously, Bowen served as Legislative Assistant to a member of the United States House of Representatives and managed a policy portfolio that included agriculture, environment, trade, and financial services policy. Bowen's experience in agriculture policy includes Conference Committee negotiations on the Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008. Bowen also worked extensively on public lands and energy legislation, as well as on matters relating to banking and financial markets.

Bowen graduated from Berry College in Rome, Georgia and is a native of southeastern Colorado.

Peggy Hall
Assistant Professor and Field Specialist, Agricultural and Resource Law, Ohio State University

Peggy Kirk Hall is an Assistant Professor and Field Specialist in Agricultural and Resource Law at The Ohio State University. She directs OSU Extension’s Agricultural & Resource Law Program and conducts research and outreach on legal issues affecting agriculture, rural land use and resource development. Hall also partners with the national Agricultural & Food Law Consortium, a multi-institutional agricultural law research initiative directed by the National Agricultural Law Center, and teaches the undergraduate Agribusiness Law course in the College of Food, Agricultural & Environmental Sciences.

Hall is a faculty Senator in OSU’s University Senate, has served as President of the American Agricultural Law Association, Chair of the Ohio State Bar Association Agricultural Law Committee and on the Advisory Board for the National Agricultural Law Center. After earning her Bachelor of Science degree she continued with a Master of Science degree in Resource Policy, both from The Ohio State University. Her Juris Doctorate degree is from the University of Wyoming College of Law, where she focused on agricultural and natural resource law, was President of the Natural Resources Law Forum and was the Case Notes Editor for the Land and Water Law Review.

Hall and her family own and operate a grain farm in Union County, Ohio.

USDA Briefing
10:00 – 11:00 a.m at the U.S. Department of Agriculture

Tom Vilsack
Secretary, U.S. Department of Agriculture

Tom Vilsack serves as the Nation's 30th Secretary of Agriculture.

As leader of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), Vilsack is working hard to strengthen the American agricultural economy, build vibrant rural communities and create new markets for the tremendous innovation of rural America. In more than six years at the Department, Vilsack has worked to implement President Obama's agenda to put Americans back to work and create an economy built to last. USDA has supported America's farmers, ranchers and growers who are driving the rural economy forward, provided food assistance to millions of Americans, carried out record conservation efforts, made record investments in our rural communities and helped provide a safe, sufficient and nutritious food supply for the American people.

The Obama Administration and USDA have made historic investments in America's rural communities, helping create ladders of opportunity for rural people and building thriving rural economies for the long term. As chair of the first-ever White House Rural Council, Secretary Vilsack and USDA are taking steps to strengthen services for rural businesses and entrepreneurs by finding new ways to make the connection between the demand for investment in rural areas and the financial community.

USDA is promoting American agriculture by conducting cutting-edge research and expanding markets at home and abroad. The years 2009-2014 represent the strongest six years in history for agricultural trade, and new trade agreements President Obama signed with Colombia, South Korea and Panama will create even more export opportunities for American farmers and ranchers. Here at home, USDA has helped increase the number of farmers markets by 180 percent since 2006, and made more than 500 investments in local food infrastructure - including food hubs, local processing facilities and distribution networks - to help connect farmers and consumers and create jobs all along the supply chain for local food.

Vilsack knows that conserving natural resources is critical to the long-term strength of our economy. That is why USDA has enrolled a record number of private working lands in conservation programs and implemented new strategies - such as landscape-scale efforts - to restore our forests and clean our water supply. This work is creating private sector jobs protecting and rehabilitating our forests and wetlands, and providing increased opportunities for outdoor recreation, which supports 6.1 million direct jobs across the country.

Under Vilsack’s leadership, USDA has partnered with First Lady Michelle Obama’s Let’s Move! initiative to improve the health of America’s children. He helped pass and implement the Healthy, Hunger Free Kids Act, enabling USDA to help combat child hunger and obesity by making the most significant improvements to school meals in 30 years. He has led a comprehensive effort to improve the safety of the American food supply, implementing changes to food safety standards to prevent illnesses by reducing the prevalence of E. coli, salmonella and campylobacter in our meat and poultry.

He has made civil rights a top priority, reaching historic resolutions to all major past cases of discrimination brought against USDA by minority groups, and taking definitive action to move USDA into a new era as a model employer and premier service provider.

Prior to his appointment, Vilsack served two terms as the Governor of Iowa, in the Iowa State Senate and as the mayor of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. A native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Vilsack was born into an orphanage and adopted in 1951. After graduating Hamilton College and Albany Law School in New York, he moved to Mt. Pleasant, his wife Christie’s hometown, where he practiced law. The Vilsacks have two adult sons and two daughters-in-law - Doug, married to Janet; and Jess, married to Kate. They also have four grandchildren.

EPA Briefing

1:30 – 3:00 p.m. at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

Ron Carleton

Counselor to the Administrator on Agricultural Policy, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

Ron Carleton joined the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency as the Counselor to the Administrator for Agricultural Policy in January 2015. His focus has been on outreach and communication with the agricultural community. He is also an ex officio member of the USDA Federal Advisory Committee, Biotechnology and 21st Century Agriculture. Prior to his appointment at EPA, Carleton served as Deputy Commissioner at the Colorado Department of Agriculture from June 2012 through December 2014. His work as Deputy Commissioner focused on climate issues, environmental regulations, food safety, industrial hemp regulations, agricultural education and outreach, and the Farm Bill. He chaired the Colorado Food Systems Advisory Council, and served on Governor Hickenlooper’s Amendment 64
Implementation Task Force on Marijuana Regulation. Carleton also worked for over 30 years in the U.S. Congress.

Carleton holds a bachelor’s degree in political science from the University of Houston, a masters’ degree from the American University, and a law degree from George Mason University of School of Law. Carleton was also an Adjunct Professor with the School of Business at Marymount University in Arlington, Virginia, teaching classes on Public Policy and Administrative Law. He is a member of Virginia State Bar.
We look forward to seeing you our Spring 2017 Meeting! Date and location to be announced!
