What’s Wrong with Being Right?
Faculty Bios
Thursday, Dec. 8
1:30 - 3:00 pm

Mark Quiner is the director of the Center for Ethics in Government. Mark previously served as the acting director and assistant director of the nonpartisan Wyoming Legislative Service Office for the Wyoming Legislature where he worked for 26 years. Mark graduated from the University of Wyoming School of Law and has been an attorney for more than 30 years. Following law school, he worked in the Wyoming Supreme Court for Chief Justice C. Stuart Brown, and then served as assistant attorney general for the state of Wyoming before working for the Wyoming Legislature. Mark is the father of one grown son.

Ethan Wilson is a policy specialist in the Center for Ethics in Government. He holds a Juris Doctor from the University of Denver College of Law and is admitted to the Colorado bar. In 2011, Ethan graduated cum laude from the University of California, Davis, where he received his bachelor’s degree in political science and American studies. In 2010, Ethan participated in the University of California’s Washington, D.C. program where he spent a semester as a congressional intern. In 2012, he clerked in the Office of Legislative Legal Services at the Colorado State Capitol. Before joining NCSL, Ethan was selected to be an honors law clerk for the U.S. E.P.A. at its headquarters in Washington, D.C.